

---

best tea tin features

Posted by Carolyn Spader - 2008/08/10 16:42

---

I noticed that my tea tin is rusting. Any suggestions of particular tea tin features that I should seek out when shopping for a replacement?

=====

Re:best tea tin features

Posted by Will Hamilton - 2008/08/13 07:18

---

My tea tin is made of aluminum and is air-tight to keep my tea always fresh.

However, rusting may also be due to storage conditions. Rust easily forms in the presence of air and water, so always remember to keep it away from these (and from heat, as well) at all times.

=====

Re:best tea tin features

Posted by Justin Carlyle - 2008/08/15 13:11

---

I would not purchase a tin that has a hinged top. I don't believe the seal is as air tight.

=====

Re:best tea tin features

Posted by Joanna Fisher - 2008/08/17 17:02

---

I prefer the shorter and wider tins (like the ones on this site) versus the taller, slimmer ones. I have found them more convenient to use.

=====

Re:best tea tin features

Posted by Mike Hargreaves - 2008/08/21 13:46

---

I would be cautious of brass tins unless the inside has an inner lining for safe food storage.

=====